The graduate placement exams in music history and music theory (GPE), the graduate writing exam (GWE), the vocal literature, pedagogy, and diction exams, and the piano literature exam will be offered online only through Canvas using the Respondus Lockdown and Respondus Monitor technologies. You are required to download the Respondus Lockdown software as well as the Respondus Monitor to take the graduate placement exams. Below are helpful links and instructions for students.

General information about Respondus:
https://clear.unt.edu/supported-technologies/respondus

For Respondus Lockdown:
https://clear.unt.edu/supported-technologies/respondus-lockdown-browser

- Download student edition. Sign in with your UNT credentials. Watch video:

Intro to Respondus LockDown Browser for Students
https://www.youtube.com/watch?time_continue=122&v=XuX8WoeAycs&feature=emb_logo

- Install Now

Lockdown browser for students:
https://clear.unt.edu/supported-technologies/respondus-lockdown-browser

If you are an international student and cannot download Respondus Lockdown and Lockdown Monitor, you are required to request a deferment of the GPE/GWE and other entrance exams to January, 2021 orientation. The Graduate Studies Office will confirm and approve the deferment via email.