

This form must be submitted and approved prior to the approval of the topic proposal.

The student and the editor agree to limit an editorial intervention to matters of citations, grammar, style and formatting as well as overall structure. Such intervention will not pertain to content. The student must retain ownership of the document. Editorial annotations and illustrations are the sole responsibility of the editor in the annotations.

The editor agrees in consultation with the student and shall not enter into a relationship with the student's major professor or committee members of the student or an advisor in violation of the policies of the Graduate School of the University of Tennessee. The editor must be a current UNT student or a faculty member of an UNT faculty. The editor is not responsible for the student's work.
